33	1) That medicines reconstitution and medication preparation are very different definitions. 2) We have very different approaches for hospital pharmacists. In Estonia, it is the main job of a hospital pharmacist to be a quality officer and ensure safe preparation and administration of medicines to patients in co-operation with nurses. Clinical Pharmacy is not taught in Estonia at a university degree level, therefore we try to manage clinical problems as well but our main approach is to be the quality officer. At the same time colleagues from the Netherlands told that they have numerous clinical pharmacists but now they would need new quality officers in hospitals.	4/3/2017 12:33 AM

18	fake medications should be avoided with the help of the falsified medicines directive by the EU. The dispensing pharmacist checks the medication package in the central repository. Checking all the packages in the Hospital pharmacies means more extraordinary charges. Maybe it will be necessary to have more staff in the pharmacy. You also need a new equipment (scans) to check the packages in the pharmacy.	3/29/2017 10:13 AM
19	That it takes a lot more time to scan the barcode than originally thought. We will need extra FTE to manage work.	3/29/2017 8:19 AM
20	FMD will have a great impact on workload not all risks are covered (internet pharmacy)	3/28/2017 10:05 PM
